OHIS WOMANI. PACE.

PANSY MAT MADE OF SHADED THREAD AND VIOLET RIBBON, Designed by a Sunshine member

UNIQUE CLOTHING BUREAU.

EPISCOPAL SISTERS WHO ARE MODISTES

TO THE POOR. IN THE BASEMENT OF A WEST SIDE HOUSE

GARMENTS ARE MADE "AS GOOD AS

NEW" FOR SUMMER WEAR. Good Shepherd (Protestant Episcopal), is the pionear, and for a long time was the only clothing bureau in New-York. A number of churches and societies in this city and other places have learned nat a useful work it is, and have since opene bureaus on the same plan. Its object is to benefit the self-respecting, hard-working poor, who, after house rent and living expenses have been paid, have little money remaining for clothing. Under these circumstances many buy cheap and perish-makers, and who have not much time for sewing, often buy low-priced, ready-made, filmsy suits for their lively boys and girls, and are consequently ed to buy soon again, or see their children out thing bureau are substantial and good, and the bureau is in the basement of the Sisters' house. No. 419 West Nineteenth-st., and is open for sales on Friday and Saturday afternoons, from 3 to 4:30 o'clock. Most of the clothing is such as is contributed by persons who cast off their garments efore they became shabby, but on some artic cleaning and repairing are necessary before they ere sold; these of course are marked at a low price. The income derived from the sales is used in the support of the little girls who are under the care is much larger than the supply. The question, "Have you a pair of trousers or a coat that would fit my husband." is often asked, only to be answered in the negative. Clothing of all kinds for women and children is easier to obtain, the Sisters the Sisters say, have helped waiters to get em ere sometimes on hand for sale, one of the Sisters, mentioned an incident of a woman who caught might of a blanket, and exclaimed. Two been praying for that. My how had scarlet fever and I had to burn the blanket that was on his hed, and since that I've had nothing but a coat to put over him at night. Pleers of good material are also sold in packages for patchwork and other uses, at prices running from one to five cents.

BONNETS FOR FIVE CENTS.

and at a side table three little girls from the training-school were marry over the putting up of packages, which they managed with dexterous hands. Much of the clothing for this sale was the work of the Lenten Thimble Society, the memwork of bers of w Lent. Fr made from made from remnants. Some of the hals and bennets were old-fishioned ones, remodeled and tasterfully made up. The millinery is sold at prices varying from 5 to 46 cents, and the women and young girls, who, like their wealthier neighbors, desire "something new for Easter." so away delignted with their purchases. School bats for children, sealing from 5 to 10 cents, are pretty, simple and suitable for insir purpose.

At the Sister's Home and Training School little girls are received between the ages of five and twelve years, and may remain until they are sixteen. They are taught the common English branches, and are trained in light housework and sewing. From June until October they are cared for in the House of the Good Shepherd, at Asbury Park N J. Other children, with their mothers, are also received at this Home for visits of a fortingth to longer during the summer, as many being cared for as the fresh air fund would warrant. The little ones who are received in the training school are usually orphans or half orphans, and others who must be trained for self-support. Some are provided for by the Sisterhood, for others tillo a year is paid, this covers foard, education and provides some closining. If the children are not returned to relatives at the end of their time in the school, they are placed in good domestic places. A number of the beneficiaries of the Home are living with families in Hariford, Conn.

The Sisters often visit the circk and poor in different parts of the city. From the end of May to October 1 two Sisters take charge of Bustercup Cottage, a resting-place for working girls of Philadelia.

SANTIAGO, SPAIN'S BATTLE CRY.

A LEGEND OF ST. JAMES THE GREATER,

THE DONS PATRON SAINT. Bantlage is the battle cry of Spain, and the rea-son thereof is a curious one and illustrates to a marked degree the superstitious character of the people of that country.

St. James the Greater, a Spanish legend says, went into a boat after his decapitulation and set off for Spain. On his way he passed by Bonzas, in Portugal, where the wedding of a noble's daughter was in progress. One of the amusements on this ecasion was "throwing the cane," which took place on the senshore, and as the bridegroom was going to take part, to the consternation of the party his horse suddenly plunged into the sea, only emerging above the waves when he reached the boat of St. James. While the affrighted watchers were looking on the animal again disappeared, but landed afterward, with its rider, and both covered with scallop shells. The man said that St. James promised him that he would take good care of any pligrims who should visit his future shrine and wear a scallop shell in token of having been true to him. He gave explicit directions how to find him and where his beat would sail to, and then set off. Within a few mules of Santiago he lay down on a stone, which enveloped him like a cloak, and eight hundred years later the body was discovered by a hermit and removed to Santiago.

A pligrimage to this shrine was as indispensable in the Middle Ages to many people as the journeys to Mecca now are to Mahometans, and no fewer than twenty-four hundred licenses to visit Santiago were granted to Englishmen in 184. Papal encyclicals excommunicated those who dared to sell scallop shells to pligrims except at Santiago.

St. James has helped the Spaniards in battle, they say, on thirty-eight different occasions, and at one time he killed sixty thousand Moors. And this is the reason Santiago is their battle cry. party his horse suddenly plunged into the sea, only

A FANCIFUL COSMETIC.

The water in which asparagus has been cooked the rather fanciful cosmetic with which many French maids bathe the face and neck of their mistress at bedtime.

Mrs. Ruth McEnnery Stuart will give an authors' reading before the Cosmos Club in the lecture-room of the First Presbyterian Church, Emory-st., Brooklyn, this evening at 8 o'clock.

THE DAY'S GOSSIP.

tion, which has formerly held its annual meeting in this city, will meet in Boston to-day and row. Members will be the guests of the Daughters of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and to-day's meeting will be held in Paul Revere Hall,

The International Health Exposition will open this evening at the Grand Central Palace and last nurses' educational exhibit there will be a bacteriological station, a model French dining-room and kitchen and many other interesting and instructive exhibits.

versity, Scotland, will lecture in Milbank Memorial Chapel, Teachers' College, this affernoon at 3:20 o'clock. A reception will be tendered to him afterward.

A concert for the benefit of the George Washington Memorial Association will be given in Memorial Hall, Young Women's Christian Association, Brook-lyn, this evening at 8:80 o'clock.

The Women's Auxiliary of the University Settlement, No. 25 Delanceyet, has arranged for the production of "In a Persian Garden" at the home of Mrs. Speyer, No. 25 Madison-ave, this after-noon at $50 a clock.

The annual meeting of the Women's Conference of the Society for Ethical Culture will take place at the society house, No. 669 Madison-ave., to-day at 2.80 olclock.

Elaborate plans have been formed for the grand military and Hungarian hands, a vandeville programme, dancing and a grand suppor. The patronesses number forty-two, headed by Mrs. Astor. and if a certain sum of many is raised this evening J. Pierpont Morgan will give it come. entertainment benefit of the Lying-In Hospital at the Waldorf-Astoria this evening. There will be

Mrs. Sarah Brownson How will give a reading to-day at 2:50 o'clock at Miss Marie Page's studio, No. 96 Clinton-st. Brooklyn. Her subject will be "Kate Douglas Wiggin and Her Mor Popular Stories"

The Church Periodical Club will give a tea, with music and recitations by Miss Louise Forsyth, to-day at 3 o'clock at the school of the Sisters of the church, No. 5 East Fifty-third-st.

The National American Woman Suffrage Association will hold a two-day convention in to-day and to-morrow in the chapel of the Polytechnic Institute. evening sessions. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Cast will open the meeting this afternoon with introductory open he make and will be followed by Mrs Florence Howe Hall on "Suffrage" and Miss Adele Fields on "The Work of the League for Political Education in New-York." Mrs. Lillie Deveroux Blake will speak to-morrow afternoon on "Suffrage," and Miss Harriette A. Keyser on "The Easie Problem of Industrialism." The respond to a question box. The Rev. Anna Shaw will

Lusk, a member of the New-Zealand Parliament, and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt. Mr. Lusk will speak on "Wooman Suffrage in New-Zealand," and Mrs. Catt on "True Democracy."

To-morrow evening will be given to a short address by Dr. J. H. Derlington, of Christ Church, and to the Rev. Anna Shaw. The afternoon sessions will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, and those in the evening at 8 o'clock.

The Women's Friday Night Literary Circle, of Mount Vernon had a meeting and supper at the home of Mrs. Joseph S. Wood, No. 125 South Second-ave., on Friday evening. Among those present were the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Granger, the Misses Alles. Esther and Jane Andrews, Mrs. Henry E. Rhoades, Mrs. Arthur Williams and Mrs. C. H. Stecker.

The Columbia College Musical Society will give a benefit entitled "Vanity Fair" for the Mothers and Bables' Hospital at the Waldorf-Astoria next Friday at $130 p. m.

the Hotel Majestic to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Edward Payson Cone is chairman of the Entertainment Committee, and is assisted by Mrs. Edward B. Harper, Mrs. Franklin Fyles, Mrs. Archibald Turner and Mrs. H. N. Fraser. The ushers are Miss L. O'Brien, Miss Leila Larendon. ushers are Miss L. O'Brien, Miss Letia Larendon, Miss Ada Fisher, Miss Hufcut and Miss Edith Fraser. Tickets are $1 each, and may be had from Mrs. Cone. No. $14 West Ninetieth-st., or at the Hotel Majestic. The Santa Clara Leaue was formed for the support of the Santa Clara Home, in the Adirondacks, established for the benefit of consumptive working girls. It has been successfully carried on for several years, and is one of the most deserving charities. Mrs. John Elderkin is the president.

The Women's Emergency Corps of the 13th Regiment extends thanks to the Shrimpton Manufacturment extends thanks that in the transfer of a thousand needle-books for the Housewife Sewing Circle. The next meeting of this organization will be held at the armory, Summer and Jefferson avex. Brooklyn, this afternoon at 2:39 o'clock.

Seventeen women members of the senior law that they are ready to go to the front as nurses.

A WOMAN DIRECTS A COLLEGE OF LAW. Miss Florence Higgins, a native of Francesville Ind., who has just accepted the chair of oratory and the directorship of that department in the Northern Indiana College of Law, is the first woman to hold such a place in a college of law, Graduated at the age of thirteen from the elocution course at the Valparaiso Normal College, she tion course at the Valparaiso Normal College, she pursued her studies at the Chicago University with S. H. Clark, and at the Conway School of Acting. At the age of seventeen she became instructor of elecution and rhetoric at the Northern Indiana Normal School. Her brilliant career is a striking example of what natural endowments, untiring efforts and courage can accomplish.

SOUTHERN BUSINESS WOMAN. Mrs. E. A. Holroyd is the ploncer of a new line of business for women in New-Orleans. She has opened a news-stand and stationery store.

GOOD CHEER. Have you had a kindness shown Pass it on.
The not given for you alone—
Fass it off.
Let it travel down the years.
Let it wise an ther's mark.
I'll in heaven the deed appeara—Pass it on.

tributions of reading matter from Mrs. J. H. P., of Yonkers, N. Y.; from J. F. D., Mrs. G. S. Pratt, A. E. Johnson, Mrs. Whitheck, Mrs. S. E. Kreemer, and Paney. Also a box of books and Easter cards from the T. S. S. office, the contents of which were distributed among the members of the Evans (Col.) T. S. S. Branch. Hearty thanks are sent to all contributors.

Has any member back numbers of the Sunday

A commonplace life," we say, and we sigh: But why should we sigh as we say?

But dark were the world and sad our let
If the flowers failed and the sun shone not;
And God, who studies each separate soul.
Out of commonplace lives makes his beautiful whole.

Sent by Mrs. G. H. Pilsbury.

Mrs. J. F. D. has kindly furnished the following stanzas, asked for by an invalid on April 14, in the Sunshine column:

Our lives are songs. God writes the words. And we set them to music at pleasure: And the song grows glid, or sweet, or sad, As we choose to fashion the measure. We must write the music, whatever the song.

THE NEW DAY

Oh, happy was the thought of those Who reckened by the setting sun
Not finished days but days begun—
Hushed days beam with starred repose.
Wise and it been that mode to keep—
To say that death, like sunset, brings
A source and not an end of things.

-(By G. W. Wood

Forget not all the samehine of the war By which the Lord has led these answered prayers, And joys unushed strange blessings, lifted cares; Grand promise senders. Thus the life shall be The General Society, Daughters of the RevoluOne record of His love and faithfulness to thee.

One record of His love and faithfulness to thee.

Selected by Mrs. E. Burdsall Wayne County, N. V. overflowed with happiness and delight because she received so many pretty gifts on her birthday from T. S. S. members. She wishes to thank all the good people who remembered her so pleasantly.

Its main feature will be the trained | God broke our years to hours and days that, hour Just going on a little way, we might be able
All along to keep quite strong Should all the weight of life be laid across our

And the future, rife with was and struggle, meet

A little on us every day, and never, I believe, in all the way.

Will burdens bear so deep, or pathways lie so threatening and so steep.

But we can go, if by God's power, we only hear the burdens of the hour. Belected by Mrs S. C. B. Holcomb.

Birdle Young, of Evans, Col., sends thanks through the T. S. S. column to L. M. Nickolson for yarn and crochet needles.

Force and learness, powerty and death, One after another left their frawning masks. And we behold the seraph's fane beheath. All radiant with the glory and the saint Of having looked upon the frint of God.

Miss Grace Oregory and the Brahms Quartet will give a musical to-day at 3:30 o'clock at No. 421 West ribbons for a sofa pillow, will they please community fifty-seventh at.

Cate with Mayste E. Shelley, No. 135 Lafayette cate with Mayste E. Shelley, No.

DON'T TAKE IT TO HEART

There's many a pleasure might prove a sweet

There's many a trifle whose growth we might siffe.
With lauch or with loke or more deficure art;
But careful to nourish, twill rapidly flourish,
And seem like a mountain of fire on the heart.

Give wings, then, to sorrow, and draw from to morrow.

The sunstine to scatter the grief that annoye.

The world would be brighter, our hearts would be lighter.

JOSEPHINE POLLARD.

The poem. Then't Take it to Heart," appeared to "The New York Ledger" of July 18, 1822. In "Tinsley's Magazine" for November, 1876, a peem appeared with the same site bearing the agnature of Georgiana C Clark. The first two stanzas were taken loadily from my sister's poem, and the remainder was given an linglesh twist that would disper any suspection of its American Esthright. The peem has been widely copied and the original author has had frequent opportunity to consider the trony of the title and the presumption of the plantarist.

REAL LIVE BARIES TO BE IN THE INFANT WARD-MANY NOVEL EXHIBITS.

Women will be so much in evidence at the Inter-national Health Exposition, which will open this evening at the Grand Central Palace, that more than any other exposition which has some and gone than any other exposition which has some and gone bitherto in New York it will be a woman's slow. While its supervising director is Charles F. Wingate, the sanitary scientist, the greatest single phase of the show and proportionately a large part of it is the extensive educational exhibit made by the trained nurses. The object of this novel exhibit is the education not only of the nurse, but of the public. It is located on the gallery floor of the Grand Central Palice, where a long line of booths, or works, with playered walls and metal ceilings have wards, with plastered walls and metal cellings have been constructed. The furniture is iron-dirt-proof and germ-proof. If there is a supboard or closet for foods or medicines it is of but two materials en-amelied iron and glass.

In the infant ward will be real live hables, swing ing in enamelled-iron cradles as white as their own garments, and attended by white-capped, whiteaproned nurses.

Grim war will be suggested by the Red Cross flag and an exhibit from the famous society of which Miss Clara Barton is the patron saint. This exhibit will not be so extensive as was intended, for the sufficient reason that material until new available for show is already on its way to the South and Cuha, probably soon to be put to earnest uses for sick or wounded American soldiers and sallors. One large room will show the abode of a patient in an insane asylum of to-day, and next door will be the mad cell of an old-fashioned rural poorhouse It suggests a cell in Morro Castle or the Cabanas Fortress. A small hinged trap in the cell door ad-mits air and food to the being caged like a wild beast within. The cell would make a sane woman or man mad in short order.

will also be shown in the nurses' exhibit. There will be much about good cooking in the Health Show. French cooking will be delivered by Mme. Gasto The domestic science department of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be tional Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be a great feature, and that it should be successful was one of the last wishes expressed by the late Frances E. Willard. The department will be in the charge of Mrs. Marton A. McBride, of Boston, assisted by Miss E. K. Burr, also of Boston, who will lecture with demonstrations at noon every day. The menus will all be economical, and the cooking will all be done in an Aladdin oven. There will be receptions afternoons and evenings.

At the opening of the exposition to-night Andrew H. Green will preside. Bishop Potter will offer the opening prayer, and Lieutenant-Governor Timothy L. Woodruff will make an address.

JUNIOR MILITARY BALL.

MEMBERS OF ALL THE MILITARY SCHOOLS TO TAKE PART.

A grand patriotic assembly for Young America, called a junior military ball, is to take place in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria on Satur-day afternoon, April 30, from 3 to 6 o'clock, All MARY OFFEN OF SCOTE WEDE GEV. the military schools, with their officers and staffs, have received invitations to attend in full-dress uni form, as have also the principals and students of other private schools. The dancing will be pred by a military and patriotic programme by cadets.

A novelty especially arranged for the occasion by Lieutenant Edward Beckert, of the Hamilton institute, will be a drill by a special volunteer company from the institute. It will execute many new movements, including a musical drill and a loading and firing drill. The commanding officers of the Hamilton Institute will be Cadet-Major Herbert Bell Drake, First Lleutenant Franklin Gun-ther, First Lleutenant Herbert W. Briggs, First Sergeant Le Roy Parsons and Second Sergeant J. Arthur Brown. This drill will be followed by a demonstration of the Duryea-Delsarte system of physical culture, conducted by Mr. Duryea. in keeping with the patriotic character of the en-tertainment, this performance will be in the form diament, this performance will be in the form scarf drill, red, white and blue scarfs being. One of the boy pupils, Mester Pierce Harjes, impersonate Uncle Sam, and head the drill an American flag in each hand. The drill be participated in by students from the Bar-School for Girls, of Washington Heights, the linestitute, of Harlem, and Mr. Duryen's sea at the San Remo, Central Park West. The bined classes will number about one hundred fermoon will close with a figure from the in which the National colors will be the mant feature, and a grand march, reviewed by "Incie Sam."

Barnard School, of which William Livingston

The proceeds of the affair are to go toward the fund to found a College of Arts of America, in which Mr. Duryea is the moving spirit.

WAYS OF WOMENKIND.

grow old, and this provokes the question. Why do women grow old before their time? Women used in the church and on the beach and in the have their own as well as their children's and husbands' worries, and the duties of home life give them time to fret, while a man's contact Isabelle Horton by name, is doing evangelistic work at 1945burg. She preaches in a semi-scholastic, semi-clerical dress, and speaks without any negro accent. From the processis of her work she intends to educate herself for further and more advanced labors.

At the time of their introduction in England they were worn by men only, and women did not venture to wear, them until after their use had become f Mr. and Mrs. Philip R. Ketcham, won the first of Mr and Mrs. Philip R. Ketcham, won the first and second prizes in the Demorest medal contest to orderly, held at Amityville on Friday last under the management of the local Weman's Christian Temperance Union. The points on which judgment was made were articulation, voice, memory, expression, emphasis, greature and general effect. Those contesting for the prize were Eugenie Moore, Lillian Barto, Helen Liebenow, Jessie Haff, Sadie Purciy and Viola and Hazel Ktcham. Captain Joel S. Davis, President Samuel P. Hildreth and Rufus J. Ireland were the judges.

hard to keep a school teacher single out there An itstance of this fact is found in the three Misses Busch, who went, one at a time to Givens-ville to teach, and when a second term expired all three were married.

Grant and Lucy Wadsworth, have struck out for themselves in the not overflowery fields of detective service. Miss Wadsworth's initial efforts have been directed by the New York Dental Society to ferret out young dentists who practise without to three healthy, hearty girl bables. Five years ago Mrs. Burke became the mother of three boys, who still live and thrive and will be ready to do buttle for their small sisters.

of yet twenty years old, has been made teller of Early this month Mrs. Statics Frank, of Lewis on. Mo. who is eighty-four years of age, coasted Chicago, it is said, has the most precoclous child plants in the world. She is little four-year-old Milada Czerny, a direct descendant of Czerny, the composer of 'Velocity Exercises.' When only three years of age the little tot would sit at a plane and strain a melody. She lost her sight about that time, but it has returned, and now she enloys the sunshine and flowers in addition to her music. She plays selections from all the great masters, and timidy acknowledges in bary fashion that she aspires to be a great musician some day.

by hanging a portrait of her in the Coreoran Gal-ery, at Washington.

just been appointed professor of botanical drawing at the Jardin des Plantes, Parts. This is said to be the first French professorship gained by a course scheduled for the Paris Exposition is the eproduction of a room in the New-Burg Palace, which is to be called the "Maria Theresa Hall." The paintings on the celling will illustrate scenes in the life of the Empress and the room will be eccusted and furnished in the style favored by Estire Heriston Stanton, who calmed to be a nati-ister of Edwin M Stanton, died in abject poverty the other day in Washington, and was buried by public charity. She said she was the daughter of James Stanton, of Virginia, by a first wife, but had nover lived with her father's family.

Elise Herndon Stanton, who claimed to be a half-

VASTURTIUM ROSE JAR.

The rich and artistic effect of a nasturitum de-sign on a rose far is not only eminently appropriate, but beautiful in appearance. As this lovely flower grows in a variety of colors, it can be designed to suit almost any room. Of course, givers of gifts intended to be ornaments to the housesurroundings, in order to obtain harmony and

An attractive combination of coloring for a nas-turtium jar is as follows: Background, yellow, with a band of gold at the top, and the flowers pink in color. If the deep orange tints of the flower are to be used, it is better to have a green background.

INTERESTING GLOVE FACTS.

A FEW OF THE FANCIES OF ANCIENT AND MODERN WOMEN.

A pleasant-faced woman sat at the glove counter of the leading stores a few days ago, leisurely drawing off her gloves, preparatory to having a pair fitted and tried on. She laid a beautiful hand upon the velvet-covered cushion, when the saleswoman said, "Please close your hand, madam." She did so, and looked up smilingly as "I fancy I know what you are thinking about." The girl gave a bright, answering glance and re-outside, but when we have a customer who closes gers and the palm, we know what to expect. She almost invariably be obstinate and hard to please, and the tighter she closes her hand the more pronounced are these characteristics. difficult to make a satisfactory sale of a pair of gloves to such a woman."

As the girl was talking she deftly measured the ingers and had the woman place her elbow firmly in the hollow centre of the covered block. In a short time the fair, white hand was covered to per-fection, and the saleswoman, sublimely ignoring the glove-buttoners near by, took a halrnin from up to the first one, closed the glove snugly, her. The gloves in the boxes showed fresh and the most modern of all wearing apparel, and indeed it is hard to realize what a wonderful history belongs to so small an article.

brought to light in France and Switzerland there was found abundant evidence to show that gloves times. More than this, they reached even to the comparison may be allowed between the ones made ubtless from roughly dressed skins and sewed with bone needles, and the delicate kid glove of to-

Gloves were certainly well known to the Romans, and were denounced by a moralist at the close of used in the church and on the bench, and in the both were and were buried in them. An engraving of the coronation procession of 1600 shows one of the judges wearing a pair richly fringed about the

in story, and have been used as pledges of faith and symbols of trust, as gages of battle and favors of love. They have been sent as messengers of goodwill, and have been offered as gifts on mem-at the time of their introduction in England they cre worn by men only, and women did not venice to wear them until after their use had become general among the other sex. Some historic loves associated with revally are still preserved a private collections and in museums. A pair noe worn by Queen Elizabeth give one the idea at Her Majesty's hands must have been of unsual size, or that gloves were worn comfortably loss, not to say 'baggy,' in those days. The invasions of the gloves are almost appailing, the iddie finger being four and three-quarters inches a length, the thumb five inches, and the paim use and one half inches in width. The glove is early half a yard long, the gold fringe at the bottom taking two inches from the total length, he material used was fine white leather, worked the gold thread, edged at the bottom with yellow in lined in the cuff with drab.

No description of gloves worn by royalty can be still from the cuff with drab.

No description of gloves worn by royalty can be this gold thread, edged at the bottom with yellow in lined in the cuff with drab.

No description of gloves worn by royalty can be this gold thread, edged at the bottom with yellow in lined in the cuff with drab.

No description of gloves worn by royalty can be this gold thread, edged at the bottom with yellow in lined in the cuff with drab.

No description of gloves worn by royalty can be interested to a generous proortions and are described as being made "of a generous proortions and are described as being made "of a give some her all the collection of the proposed to the calculate emrended to a still cool buff-colored leather, the claborate emrended to a still a sea blinding to the gauntiet is lined with rimson the foliage represents trees, and is price of made in area. A bird in flight, with a long tall, price consplexed by two shades of very pale imson satin, a narrow band being turned outant as a blinding to the gauntiet on to which is even the gold fringe of lace, on the points of their area fastened groups of smal

HINTS RY A HOUSEWIFE

Here is the recipe for a novel sandwich that is always apperizing: Take small rolls and rasp the crust evenly. Cut a round from the bottom of the roll and set it aside: then scrape out as much of the crumb as possible, taking care not to penetrate the crust. Mince well-cooked chicken, tongue, beef, or ham and add to two tablespoonfuls of the meat spoonful of white sauce. .

a specified of white sauce.

The sauce is made by mixing one tablespoonful of flour with a cill of cream or milk, stirring in two ounces of butter. Add sait, papper and a dust of nutmer, and beat all together until smooth and free from lumps. When the sauce is cold, mix in any small said, finely chopped. Thoroughly mix the mean with the sauce and fill the rolls. Take the rounds previously cut off and place them at the end of the rolls. Pile them on a pretty dish and they make a delicious adjunct for supper, high tea or luncheon.

SALMON-CUCUMBER SALAD

This is an old housekeeper's recipe for salmon-ucumber salad: Press some boiled salmon through a sleve and mix with it mayonnaise dressing rich cream. Season the compound with sait and cayenne pepper. Take two thinly cut slices of cucumber that have been in a bowl of the water for an hour previous, lay them on slices of bread and spread the salmon evenly over the cucumber. Put two slices together and you have a delicate sandwich.

SAUCE FOR HERRING A sauce or dressing of herbs greatly improves the flavor of broiled mackerel or herring. The followspoonful of sorrel, thyme, parsley, any fresh herb, and chives. Mince finely and simmer together in a tablespoonful of butter. Season with sait, pepper and vinegar. Broll mackerel about twenty minutes over a slow fire.

MOLASSES CANDY A good recipe for making molasses candy is as follows: Two cups full of granulated sugar, two tablespoonfuls of molasses and two tablespoonfuls of water. Let it boll about twenty minutes, pour into buttered pans and cut into squares before it Another way to make molasses candy is to put Another way to make molasses candy is to put three pints of molasses into a large saucepan, and add three-fourths of a pound of light-brown sugar. Remove the scum from time to time, while it is boiling. When the candy is nearly done, add the grated rind and juice of one lemon, and boil and sile until it is thick. Put a little in a saucer, and let it cool. If it is brittle, it has cooked long enough. Pour into well-buttered, shallow dishes or pans.

The kernels of hickory nuts, walnuts and pecans improve the candy.

DAUGHTER OF A JAPANESE NOBLE. One of the students of the College of Music in Cincinnati, known as Katherine Agnes Gullek, is said to be in reality Suma Matsu Honjo, the daughter of a Japanese noble, who married an American, Miss Emma Tyler, a relative of the President of that name.

CURFEW BELL TO BE REINSTATED!

On the ground that the restoration of the ringing of a curfew bell will result in the improvement of the manners and morals of children, Charles R. Skinner. State Superintendent of Schools, is in favor of the movement that has been started to reinstate the old custom. In this connection Mr. Skinner also recommends that children under fifteen years of age shall be compelled to be within doors at 9 o'clock at night, the hour when the curfew should ring. Mrs. John D. Townsend, who has for two years urged the presentation of such a law, has expressed herself as being greatly pleased with the present action. She is an inspector of public schools, and declares that "New-York would be a better city if the youngsters were kept off the streets after 9 o'clock, unless accompanied by an older and more responsible person."

At a recent meeting of the City Council of North

Adams, Mass., a petition was presented asking tha a curfew ordinance be passed. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union was the petitioner, and it will speak for the curfew law at a public hearing to be given by the Ordinance Committee at an early day. The "white ribboners" have the hearty support of the best clitzens of North Adams, and it is hoped that their effort will meet with favor at the hands of the city fathers.

The movement is also appreciated by the women reformers of Binshamion. They have determined to enforce it as a law in their own city, and they wish to carry the rule further and insist that young men shall be compelled to retire from the streets after a certain hour.

Objections have been raised by many residents of towns and villages throughout New-York State as well as by those of the great city itself, who say that it is a step backward toward the old Puritanical rule of two centuries ago, and means a number of other "blue laws" for the curtailing of the personal liberty of men and women. Others say that the passing of such a law would be an interference by the government in a matter which ought to be controlled by parents, and that compulsory laws looking to the making of a people moral are a failure.

LITTLE NOTES OF FASHION.

One pretty spring gown noticed in one of the stores is of black moire velour with a Paquin skirt. The flounce is heavily spangled with jet to outline the watered effect of the moire. The waist and sleeves are also letted, and a lace scarf is caught in a bow on the left side.

A neat spring walking gown of turquoise gray face cloth, with diagonal trimming of black cadet braid. The waist has a slight blouse effect, with white moire revers, and a collar and tie of lace.

The ultra fashionable coat has a semi-tight-fitting front with almost tight back, and no ful-ness in the basque, A dainty and beautiful effect in summer of tumes is produced by combining white lawn with many insertions of black lace.

For women with high foreheads the correct was to dress the hair is to have a few curis over the temples. This softens the face considerably and is exceedingly becoming when the hat comes far over on the eyes.

A light drab Venetian coat and skirt is much in vogue for outdoor wear. A collar turned back with tucks of shaded batists in blue adds to the attractiveness of the costume.

Slik waists will be made to fasten on one side with a large triangular rever, trimmed with rib-hon velvet, during spring and summer.

Another pretty thing in the silk line is the new fleurs-de-satin. This is a link between the taffets and satin, and is in changeable shades.

Bengalines are going to be more popular this summer than for many years, and will be shown Moiré is said to be more sought after this season than last, and will figure conspicuously in street costumes during the spring.

in all the colors as well as in black, the modis

Elaborate checks are leading the list of popular silks at present. Sombre effects are conspiouous in stripes and make pretty waists. Roman stripes will be in style this season also. Velvets are still much worn for trimmings, but nothing new has developed along that line. The demand for tailor-made suits is so great that the taffeta supply for linings is decreasing in an

Striped velvets are coming in, the stripes being small, dark-colored velvet, alternating with lightcolored silk. Printed velvet is also seen, and is em-ployed in trimming woollen gowns and in making entire waists.

favor than ever next season. The blouse will still be worn, and the bolero will probably be popular. One of the new spring dress fabrics has a popita ground with a jacquard figure. It closely resembles crepon, but is less expensive.

Costumes with jacket bodices will be more

Gauze haircloth is now being used to give the stability necessary in a fashionable garment.

Purple is one of the colors most frequently seen in the new spring gowns. Chatelaines continue to grow in popularity, and they are to be de rigeur before long. The Lenten sewing class affords a welcome excuse for wearing one of these ornaments. The fashionable garter harmonizes with other Lace gowns will be much worn next season, and dress. Lace accessories will be much used. In lace and net dresses an interlining of silk will be intro-an effective trimming for evening gowns. WOMEN PRINCIPALS ADMITTED. The Schoolmasters' Club, of Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., has admitted the women principals to membership.

THE TRIBUNE PATTERN.

A TISSUE PAPER PATTERN OF BOY'S SAILOR BLOUSE SUIT, NO. 7,320, FOR COU-PON AND 10 CENTS.

Navy blue cloth made this attractive suit, the broad sailor collar, cuffs and shield being of white serge, decorated with rows of narrow blue braid. The blouse is fitted with shoulder and under-arm seams, an elastic being inserted in the hem that finishes the lower edge to adjust it in true sailor style. The fronts are closed invisibly, but buttons joined to the out-away neck in front, the shield portion being simulated by a facing on the underwaist, which is disthe lapels. A ed on the left ered top and bottom and finished, with round cuffs at the wrists, neatly trimmed with rows of braid The knee trou-

and buttonholes

so preferred

or collar ends in pointed lap-els that are

BOY'S SAILOR BLOUSE BOY'S SAILOR BLOUSE

SUIT, NO. 1,320. by inside and outside leg seams, small hip darts fitting them closely at the top. The closing is at the sides, where pockets are made, and a hip pocket can be inserted on the right hip if wanted. Buttonholes are made in under waistbands and placed on the top to attach the trousers to the underwaist, or buttons for suspenders can be put on if so preferred. Fretty suits are thus made up in various combinations of materials and colors, black and red brown and fawn, or tan with cream being stylish. The mode is suitable for wash suits of piqué, Galatea, duck, grass linen or flannel braid, embroidery or insertion all being used to trim suits in this style.

The quantity of material 27 inches wide required to make this suit for a boy eight years of age is 31s yards. sers are shaped to make this suit for a boy eight years of age to 31s yards. The pattern, which is No. 7.820, and retails for 25 cents, is cut in sizes for boys of four, six, eight and ien years of age.

COUPON ENTITLING TO ONE PATTERN. ANY SIZE OF NO. 7.320. Cut this out, fill in with name and address, and mail II to THE PATTERN DEPARTMENT OF THE TRIBUNE.